

1 INT. HOME - SUNRISE

1

DHRUV (V.O)

With the sunrise, it's only you I wanna see win. Every day I wake up it's the new you with each and every character you draw and become in reality. Your morning routine in this hard-working intern you woke up and give your One Hundred percent.

(Sakshi on the video call with his boss, discussing the idea.)

The Archie comics-inspired preview you make gives me the idea of living like a cartoon more happily.

LATER THAT NIGHT

(We see her drawing in her plain notebook. With her food in front, she realizes nothing just draws.)

THE NEXT FINE MORNING

I see the struggles, where you don't sleep, just be a nocturnal animal, and jeopardize your health just to write the idea of persuasion. It was the Fantagraphics comic company your eyes were headed to.

CUT TO:

The nights when your eyes get sober into sadness.

(In the background: We see Sakshi crying and Dhruv solely comforting.)

I realize it's the EMI you get worried about. Living in a home and working to be a creative artist is tough. It's the holiday trips on the internet you see of our friends.

FADE TO:

2 THE FINAL DAY

It was that day when I saw you finally getting selected for the DC Comics program for 3 months in New York.

(We see her getting an offer for the art designer.)

The happiness made you cry like a thousand arcs of your sorrow. You were an inspiration that day for me. When I realized it's the hard work that makes us become the greatest of ourselves. Overjoyed!!
Happy!!

THE END.
